

Irish Palatine Weekend Event Autumn 2018 September 28th - 1st October 2018

The Irish Palatine Association will host a mini event over the weekend Friday evening 28th September to the morning of Monday 1st October. The gathering will be based at the Rathkeale House Hotel and will commence with a welcome dinner on the Friday evening. Over the course of the weekend we will visit the important local Irish Palatine sites on the three original parent colonies and hopefully meet up with some of the local descendants. We will also be visiting the secondary colonies of Ballymacelligott and Ballyseedy in County Kerry. We will be joining the congregations of Tralee and Ballymacelligott Church of Ireland for morning service and meet up with those of Palatine heritage there. Pádraig O'Concubhair author of a number of books on subjects relating to the Palatines will give a talk on the Kerry Palatines in the Church and we will have a banquet at Ballyseedy Castle, home to the landlords who invited the Palatines onto their lands in the eighteenth century.

The programme will be inter dispersed with some other interesting talks. Dr. Paddy Waldron on Reconstructing Limerick family histories using DNA and Dr. Hermann Rasche on the social, economic situation of the Palatines at the time of their departure from their German homeland (the various reasons for leaving and related aspects), before they settled in Ireland and further afield.

Price per person sharing (programme & room):€380

Price per person single (programme & room):€450

Price per person (programme only):€235

In 1709 several hundred families of German origin settled in Ireland. Known as the Palatines, they established roots mainly in Counties Limerick, Kerry, Tipperary and Wexford. From there they emigrated to many parts of the English-speaking world including Australia, Canada, England, New Zealand and the United States of America.
